It is with a sense of great pride and fulfilment that we look back at the progress of the University during the last few years. It seems to be only a matter of yesterday when we laid the foundation of our newly found University and today we see the seed flourishing into a full-fledged blossoming tree.

We are happy to announce that we have almost all the professional courses running under one roof. Preparations for starting a few more are on the full swing. The University aspires to give complete facilities for learning to the students, whatever course they like to opt for. Its state-of-the-art infrastructure and a well supportive environment to facilitate quality teaching and learning have helped to make it an ideal centre of education, not only in this town but in the complete zone of Western U.P.

Students are coming from far and wide to attain world class education and enjoy a very comfortable stay on the campus with at-home facilities and environment, rare to find.

Along with imparting of education, our focus also remains on imbining of values and ethics in the students. Discipline in all forms is of highest priority for each and every member of the University.

We take all possible measures to ensure that each student passing out of the University is well equipped with not only the academic skills to excel in the world scenario but also the very important life-skills that would help them to steer clear in their journey through life.

Year 2006, sounds of chirping birds in the morning, honking of vehicles on the roads, women bargaining with the vendors, were quite common hearing in the busy streets of Meerut. What lacked was its own radio jockey on its own radio station. In January 2007, came like a fresh breeze of air, the first sound of Anju on Meerut's first FM Channel Radio IIMT 90.4.

But with the increased demand for more hours and unending love received from the listeners, we extended our horizons, and now, are broadcasting for 18 hours. The population of Meerut is about 30 lakhs including rural and urban. Keeping this in mind, we have devised our programmes accordingly. At present, we are broadcasting programmes based on spirituality, employment, child psychology, Law and rights of citizens, home remedies, healthy recipes, environment & protection, sports, career prospects, inventions and discoveries, agriculture, health and community-participation with their folk songs besides entertainment.

Catering to a population that is a mix of rural and urban masses, Radio IIMT's programmes are a mix of information and entertainment. The Radio is a hit for approx. more than 28 lakhs listeners, varied by homemakers, entrepreneurs, students, faculties, new startups, administrators, shop owners and the list goes on. The focus of our station is to combine the objective of development and reaching the community with the value that is created by community in all spheres of life. The innovative approach of combining knowledge and sharing the creativity with entertainment value is the success of our Community Radio Station. To spice up the standard recipe of information and education, we add a tadka of innovation and creativity.
